

Whistleblowing Policy and Procedure

Aims

- To encourage staff and volunteers to feel confident in reporting serious concerns about any aspects of the setting's work.
- To provide ways for staff and volunteers to report concerns.
- To ensure that staff and volunteers get a response to their concerns and that they know what to do if they are not satisfied with this.
- To reassure staff and volunteers that they will not be penalised for coming forward with their concerns.

Definitions

Whistleblowing

Whistle blowing is reporting a serious concern, which someone reasonably believes shows wrongdoing or a cover-up by that organisation. The concern may relate to something that has happened, is happening or that a person may fear will happen in the future. This may be passed on to a senior member of staff or management for action if they are not complicit but may go directly to an appropriate external organisation.

Serious Concern

- A criminal offence.
- Abuse or neglect of children.
- Bullying or victimisation of staff, volunteers or children.
- Financial malpractice.
- A health and safety risk.
- A failure to deliver appropriate standards of care.

There may be other serious concerns, which do not fit into these categories.

Procedure

- Any staff member or volunteer can report a concern.
- Concerns can be reported verbally or in writing.
- In most circumstances this would be to the line manager.

- If the concern involves the line manager or it is felt they are unlikely to take any action, the member of staff should contact a more senior manager, Chair of the Management Committee or Registered Person.
- If the concern involves the management of the organisation and there is no one internally to report to safely, then a report should be made to an appropriate external organisation.
- Staff who feel unsure about whether or how to raise a concern or want confidential advice can contact the independent charity Protect, Speak Up, Stop Harm. Their lawyers can give free confidential advice on how to raise a concern about serious malpractice at work.
- Staff can also contact the Ofsted whistleblowing hotline (if the concern relates to any areas covered in the safeguarding and welfare requirements, especially child protection), NSPCC whistleblowing advice line (if the concern relates to child protection), the Police and/or The Health and Safety Executive.

What Will Happen Next?

- All reported concerns will be investigated.
- Verbal concerns will be recorded in writing.
- The person to whom the concern has been reported to will assess what action needs to be taken. This could be an internal enquiry or more formal enquiry, for example involving Ofsted and the Police. More senior management will be informed.
- In some cases, the concern may be better addressed under another policy or procedure, such as Child Protection, Staff Disciplinary, Staff Grievance or Health and Safety.
- The person reporting the concern will be advised of the outcome as soon as possible, normally within two weeks of the date of their disclosure. Where a longer period is needed for investigation, the person will be informed in writing.
- Where a person is not satisfied with the outcome, they should put their concerns in writing to the person in charge of the organisation.
- If the staff member has needed to report their concerns externally in the first instance, then they should be guided by the external organisation in term of what will happen next.

For allegations of abuse or neglect of children made against staff, see also the Staff Allegations section in our Child Protection Policy.

Confidentiality

Staff are encouraged not to report concerns anonymously as this makes them more difficult to investigate. Any concerns raised will be dealt with confidentially wherever this is possible. If other organisations need to be involved, it may not be possible to conceal the source of the information.

Safeguards

- The organisation will not tolerate any harassment or victimisation and will take appropriate action to protect those who report a concern in good faith.
- No action will be taken against anyone who makes an allegation in good faith, reasonably believing it to be true, even if the allegation is not subsequently confirmed by the investigation.

Legal Framework and Contact Details

The Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 protects employees against detrimental treatment or dismissal as a result of any disclosure of normally confidential information in the interests of the public.
